

What areas are covered by Individual Advocacy?

Individual Advocacy supports all persons with disability who live in the Sydney metropolitan area.

Contact us to find out more information about the locations we cover.

Individual Advocacy
Support is free of cost!

Since 1986, Self Advocacy Sydney has been supporting people with intellectual disability to become Self Advocates.

Telephone:

 0421 824 868

Head Office:

 (02) 9622 3005

E-Mail:

 ia@sasinc.com.au

Website:

 www.sasinc.com.au

Certificate Number:

286984 - 2019

30 April, 2025

This Pamphlet was last updated: 28/09/2022
Funded by the Department of Social Services

Self Advocacy Sydney Inc.

Speaking for Ourselves

Individual Advocacy

A free service for all people with disability

Suite 214, Level 2

Town Centre Building

30 - 32 Campbell Street

Blacktown 2148

Self Advocacy Sydney (SAS) is part of the National Disability Advocacy Program (NDAP)

What is Individual Advocacy?

In 2019, Self Advocacy Sydney started offering Individual Advocacy as a service.

This service gives you support through an Individual Advocate.

An Individual Advocate:

- Is on your side
- Can help a person with any type of disability
- Stands up for your rights
- Can help you solve your problem

What happens when you contact us?

1. An Individual Advocate will speak with you over the phone*
2. An appointment will be made to come into office
3. We will talk you through what supports and information are available for you

*An interpreter can be organised if needed

What can Individual Advocacy help with?

We can help if you:

- Need help with information and advice
- Cannot get a service you need
- You are unhappy with a service
- Need help speaking to a government department
- Need to make a complaint
- Are experiencing abuse and/or discrimination

We are on your side!

